Artist Statement

The pumping of ones own heart, the fullness of air in the lung and the release as the chest falls. This is the pathway to peace. My work is a witness to the experience of being in the body and how that connection can allow beauty and challenges in life to be taken in fully and let go of easily.

This series is created with a light touch on the top of space, entanglement, flow and the relationship of all of those elements happening simultaneously. Through variation of paint application, mark, image and flat forms the observer is provided a mental map in which to allow present thoughts alongside the sensation of sharing physical space with the paint.
