

Artist Statement

I continue to explore the edge between order and disorder always trying to isolate the patterns that hold everything together.

This past year I fell into stitched shibori discovering that I love the meditative simplicity of stitching and this immersion into textiles is beginning to show up in my paintings.

Allen Moe